BORDER TRUST

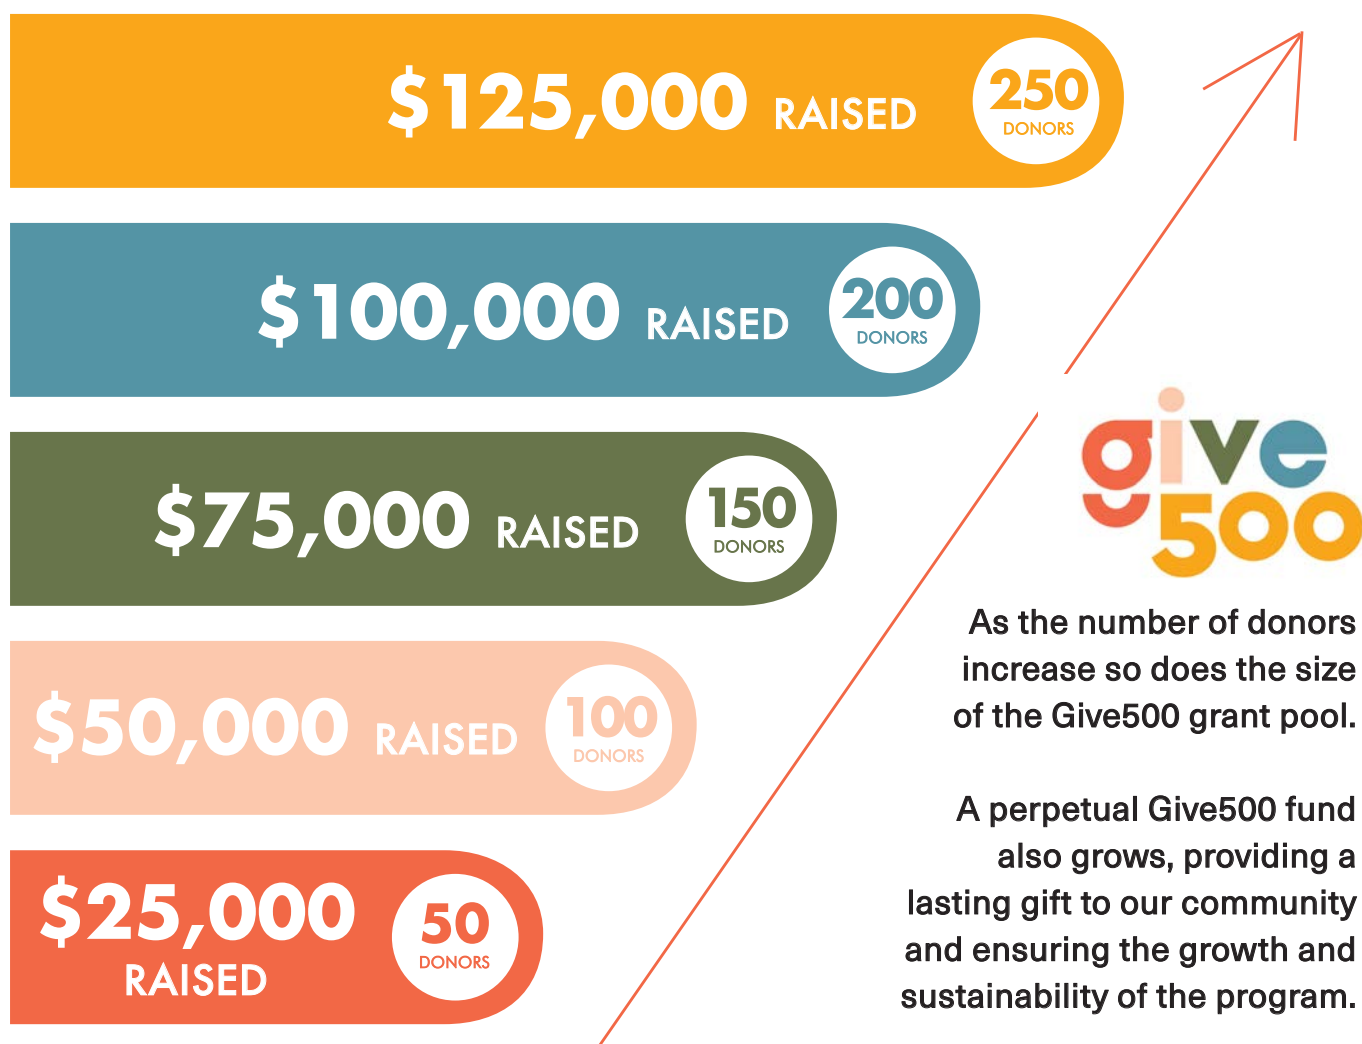

Give500 is an initiative of BORDER TRUST – the Community Foundation for the Albury Wodonga region.

How It Works

Community members, families, groups and businesses are invited to become a Give500 donor by donating $500 to the Give500 campaign. Donated funds are pooled, with the value of the annual Give500 grant pool determined by the number of donations made.

All donors are invited to attend the end of year Give500 Pitch Night, where they'll view a video and listen to a short pitch from each of the three finalists and then vote for their preferred project. The winner and runners up are announced on the night. The winner receives the largest grant, and a smaller amount is awarded to two runners up.

ONE $500 DONATION = ONE VOTE

Give500 harnesses the power of collective giving to fund projects of direct benefit to our community.

About Border Trust

Border Trust is your independent Community Foundation.

We connect the generosity of donors with local not-for-profit organisations, funding projects and initiatives that build our community's capacity to cope with disruption and create positive change. Our areas of impact include community equity, connection + wellbeing, community leadership, climate resilient communities, and disaster recovery resilience and readiness.

Our region includes six local Government areas across the Victorian and NSW border – Albury, Federation, Indigo, Greater Hume, Towong and Wodonga.

Positive and lasting impact

Run by locals for local benefit. With first-hand knowledge of our region's needs, we activate the power of giving for lasting impact in the places we call home.

With more than $4 million already distributed to support local community programs, we're investing in the long-term wellbeing of our community.
